Behind The Scenes

DR. GEORGE A. RESTA is entering his 22d season as the Senators' club physician. One of the East's most respected surgeons, he also is team physician for the Washington Redskins of the National Football League. Born in Plattsburgh, N. Y., Dr. Resta is a graduate of Georgetown University Medical School, is married and has two sons and a daughter.

TOM McKENNA was named the Senators' trainer in 1961 after serving 13 years in the same capacity at Minneapolis. He was trainer for Minneapolis baseball and ice hockey teams from 1936-42, shifted to the New York Rangers ice hockey team and Jersey City baseball team for two seasons, then returned to Minneapolis. He was a professional ice hockey player with Portland, Ore., for one year. Tom served 4½ years in the Army Medical Corps as a first sergeant, spending much of that time in France, Italy, Austria and Germany. He has been married for 21 years to the former Patricia Ann Allen. They have four children—Thomas, Jr., 20; Patty Ann, 17; Kevin, 15, and Michael, 10.

General Manager

George Selkirk

A moving man, the smiling Selkirk has moved the Senators from tenth to eighth, from 56 wins to 71, since taking over the reins. He also has moved a lot of players. Only five who were in spring training with the Senators in 1963 still are around.

Selkirk's varied baseball background has figured prominently in getting the Senators headed in the right direction. He has done it all—played on five World Championship teams with the New York Yankees, managed in the minor leagues for 10 years (finishing in the first division seven times), supervised player personnel for the Kansas City Athletics and was field coordinator for the Baltimore Orioles before he became the Senators' general manager in late November, 1962.

He has a strong sense of responsibility to blend with that rich background. He gives his subordinates authority to accomplish their jobs, prodding them gently or bluntly, as required, when needed. His laugh is easily triggered but he is impatient of incompetence. He has the executive ability to appraise a situation from all angles before moving into action, but has the daring of a riverboat gambler when the odds are right.

Born January 4, 1908, at Huntsville, Ontario, Canada, Selkirk replaced the great Babe Ruth in the Yankee's outfield. He broke in with the Yankees in 1934 and compiled a .290 lifetime batting average.

Selkirk managed Newark, Binghamton, Kansas City, Toledo and Wichita in the minors. He replaced Tommy Holmes as Toledo's manager on May 15, 1953, with the Mudhens in eighth place, and piloted that team to the American Association pennant.

Manager

HODGES, Gilbert Ray (Gil)

No. 14

Born in Princeton, Ind., April 4, 1924. Height: 6 ft. 1½ in. Weight: 200 lbs. Former catcher, outfielder, second baseman, third baseman, first baseman. Batted and threw righthanded. Attended St. Joseph's College. Lives in Brooklyn, N.Y. Married. German-Irish descent.

The Senators' bosses know a good thing when they see it and so Gil is signed through the 1968 season, with the fond hope that his affiliation with the club will be more lasting and more rewarding.

Gil commanded tremendous respect as a player and he is attracting the same respect as a manager. His thorough baseball knowledge, his competitive qualities, his insistence on aggressiveness and intelligence, his integrity, his consideration, controlled toughness, ready smile and gentlemanly approach have stamped him as a marvelous manager.

The longtime slugging star, proprietor of a 24-hour, 48-alley bowling establishment in Brooklyn, became the Senators' manager on May 22, 1963. That year the Senators won only 56 games. He has elevated them to 62 wins, 70, then 71, in successive seasons and is anticipating more progress this year.

Noted as one of the game's more gifted first basemen, Gil played in seven World Series with the Dodgers and was a member of their World Championship teams of 1955 and 1959. He was named to eight National League All-Star Game squads. Gil played in six of those games and batted .333.

Hodges was famed for his slugging—he hit 370 home runs to rank high on the all-time list—but one of his most heart-warming experiences materialized when he went into an inexplicable slump in the 1952 World Series with the Yankees. He failed to hit in 21 times at bat, a record for individual futility for seven games, but Gil's hold on rabid Brooklyn fans was demonstrated in adversity.

"The History of Baseball" says, "The Dodgers lost the series but the fans put no blame on Gil. Not once did they boo when he came to bat. For a species of fans famous for their version of the 'Bronx Cheer,' that spoke volumes for their regard for Hodges. During the winter Gil received thousands of sympathetic letters and good luck tokens from fans."

Gil rebounded to hit .364 in the 1953 World Series and followed with averages of .292 in 1955, .304 in 1956 and .391 in 1959.

The Senators' pilot holds the National League record for most home runs with the bases filled—14. He tied the major league record by hitting four home runs in a game against the Braves on August 31, 1950, at Ebbets Field.

Gil married the former Joan Lombardi on December 26, 1948. They have four children—Gil, Jr., Irene, Cynthia and Barbara Lynn.

Players

ALLEN, Bernard Keith (Bernie) No. 7 2B

Born in East Liverpool, O., April 16, 1939. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats left. Throws right. Attended Purdue University. Lives in Minnetonka Village, Minn. Married. English-Welsh-German descent.

If Bernie performs with the Senators as he performed against them Washington fans will adore him. He crashed the American League in 1962 and through last season he was a .318 hitter at D.C. Stadium while playing for Minnesota. Among his 32 career homers nine were swatted against Washington, seven at D.C. Stadium. The former Purdue all-round athletic star suffered an injury to his left knee in a second-base collision with the Senators' Don Zimmer on June 13, 1964. An operation followed, but Allen now feels he has recovered fully and is eager to grab steady employment at second base. He's a polished pivot man on a doubleplay.

ALLEN, Harold Andrew (Hank) No. 6 OF

Born in Wampum, Pa., July 23, 1940. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Attended Baldwin-Wallace University. Graduate of Youngstown University. Brother of Third Baseman Rich Allen of Phillies and First Baseman Ron Allen, in Phillies' organization. Lives in Seat Pleasant, Md. Married. Negro descent.

Beat the White Sox three times in one weekend during a brief trial with the Senators late last season. Clipped Tommy John for a three-run homer in a 5-4 win on Friday night, September 23. In a doubleheader on Sunday he contributed four straight singles and batted in two runs in a first game 6-4 win, then delivered an 11th-inning single off Hoyt Wilhelm to score Fred Valentine with the decisive run in a 2-1 second game triumph. Played every game with Hawaii in a productive season with the Islanders and was named to the Pacific Coast League All-Star Team by sportswriters. Batted .387 in nine games with the Senators, hit .476 (10-21) in six games against the White Sox.

BALDWIN, David George (Dave) No. 31 P

Born in Tucson, Ariz., March 30, 1938. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Graduate of University of Arizona, Post-Graduate Student of Anthropology. Lives in Tucson, Ariz. Married. English-French descent.

One of the more learned members of the baseball fraternity, Baldwin can uphold his conversational end of it in a discussion of zoology, anthropology or baseball. He plans research work in genetics after earning a PhD. Started and relieved with Hawaii last season and beat the Phoenix Giants, 1-0, in 11 innings as the highlight of a creditable year.

BILLINGS, Richard Arlin (Dick) No. 56 OF

Born in Detroit, Mich., December 4, 1942. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Graduate of Michigan State University. Lives in Troy, Mich. Married.

Dick showed tremendous progress in batting .312 with Burlington of the Carolina League last season and the former Spartan star is regarded as a fine bet to make it to the majors after acquiring more experience.

Born in Kenosha, Wisc., February 17, 1944. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Attended University of Wisconsin. Lives in Kenosha, Wisc. Single. Dutch descent.

Fast on the mound and fast off it, Dick has piloted a dragster at 187 mph and is a mechanic during the off season. Provided one of the highlights of spring training last year when the Senators were leading Minnesota, 3-2, with the bases full of Twins and two out in the ninth inning. After Rich Nold threw three wide ones to Bernie Allen, Bosman was summoned from the bullpen. He got two strikes across, then retired Allen on an in-field grounder to preserve the win.

Born in Cincinnati, Ohio, December 8, 1941. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Attended University of Cincinnati. Lives in Cincinnati, Ohio. Married. Dutch descent.

Quiet but competitive, slight but durable, Ed is a defensive dandy. One of baseball's slickest shortstops, Brinkman was a scholastic standout as a pitcher. He had a perfect game and a 15-1 record as a hurler at Cincinnati's Western Hills High, which produced other major leaguers in Herm Wehmeier, Dick Drott, Art Mahaffey, Don Zimmer and Pete Rose. Ed boosted his batting average 44 points last season, is looking for more improvement this year.

CASANOVA, Paulino Ortiz (Paul) No. 20 C

Born in Havana, Cuba, December 31, 1941. Height: 6 ft. 4 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in Landover, Md. Married. Cuban Negro descent.

The best catcher in the American League, according to a poll of opponents which installed him on The Sporting News' All-Star team. Paul, who owns one of the game's great arms, was promoted from York, Pa., of the Eastern League in May after injuries had depleted the Senators' catching staff. In his second game he broke up a no-hitter against Kansas City's Fred Talbot with a home run in the eighth inning. He fires up the club and captivates fans with his all-out enthusiasm.

CHANCE, Robert (Bob) No. 10 1B

Born in Statesboro, Ga., July 10, 1940. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats left. Throws right. Lives in Washington, D.C. Married. Negro descent.

Bob led the Eastern League with a .343 mark which included 26 homers and 114 runs batted in at Charleston in 1963, then followed up with an encouraging year at Cleveland. He hasn't hit as anticipated with the Senators, but may be ready to splurge following a productive winter in the Nicaraguan League.

COLEMAN, Joseph Howard (Joe) No. 37 P

Born in Boston, Mass., February 3, 1947. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 177 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in Natick, Mass. Single. Irish descent.

Terrible in the minors, magnificent in the majors. Joe's minor league record reads 9-29 after two years, but the young right-hander has started three games in the majors, finished all three and won all three. He has pitched a four-hitter against Kansas City, a five-hitter against Detroit (both in 1965) and a six-hitter against Boston in the Senators' final game of 1966. After 27 innings his major league earned run average is a flossy 1.67 and he'll get a shot at making it as a starter with the parent club. His father, Joe, was a fine pitcher with the Philadelphia Athletics until arm trouble shortened his career. Father and son now operate a sporting goods store in Natick, Mass., where young Joe was a scholastic sensation.

Casey has appeared in 205 games over the last three years, all except four of them in relief. All of his games with the Senators, 66 of them as a rookie last season, have been as a fireman. He has a sinker which can be valuable in tight situations. While pitching for Los Angeles State College he fanned 17 against the University of Arizona but lost, 1-0, in 12 innings.

THE RADIO-TELEVISION TEAM

DAN DANIELS and JOHN MacLEAN are entering their seventh season as the Senators' play-by-play announcers. Daniels, born July 20, 1922, in Americus, Ga., launched his broadcasting career as a student announcer at the University of Florida in 1941. He worked in Orlando, Fla., and Birmingham, Ala., before joining Washington's WTOP in 1956. He and his wife, Jinx, live in Bethesda, Md., with their three sons.

MacLean flitted around the country for five years broadcasting Mutual's "Game of the Day." Born in Lynn, Mass., March 9, 1921, he broadcast football, basketball and baseball for the University of Rochester and West Virginia University. He has broadcast the Army-Navy football game, Baltimore Colts football games and University of Maryland football games. John lives in Baltimore with his wife, Donna, and their three children.

Born in Windsor, Ont., Can., July 10, 1940. Height: 6 ft. 5 in. Weight: 220 lbs. Bats left. Throws right. Graduate of University of Detroit. Lives in Nashville, N.C. Married. Scotch-Irish descent.

He's a 14-game winner in any company—at Rocky Mount, N.C., in 1964, at Hawaii in 1965 and again at Hawaii last season—and he'd like to achieve that many with the parent club this year. Canadian-born Pete sparkled at the University of Detroit, has taken out papers to become an American citizen. Married Miss Rocky Mount of 1962, the former Pam Daniel. He has four sisters and a brother, who is a priest.

Born in San Francisco, Calif., February 16, 1942. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Graduate of Santa Clara University. Lives in Burlingame, Calif. Married. Irish descent.

Tim has had less than three years of pro experience after emerging from Santa Clara with an accounting degree, but this spry, scrappy infielder had a fine season with Hawaii last year, then impressed Manager Gil Hodges in a few games with the Senators and is no long shot to stick with the club. He may be the only fellow ever to hit two grand slams in one inning. He did it as a semipro in 1962 while playing with Saskatoon, Saskatchewan.

FRED BAXTER doubles as the Senators' equipment manager and home clubhouse man. He was the Senators' batboy under Manager Walter Johnson in 1929. He became the visiting clubhouse attendant in 1932 and has been the home clubhouse supervisor since 1949. Fred's late brother, Frank, was with the Senators from 1912-48, starting as a batboy and soon becoming the home clubhouse man. An All-High football center at McKinley Tech in 1932, Fred lives in Bethesda, Md., with his wife, Doris, and their four children.

Born in National City, Calif., May 24, 1939. Height: 6 ft. 5 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in Long Beach, Calif. Single. German-Indian-Irish descent.

Six no-hit innings, with nine strikeouts, against the Mets last spring; striking out eight of the first nine Tigers; striking out seven of the first nine Twins, and his fast ball being voted by managers as the best in the Pacific Coast League—these are some of Duckworth's recommendations. Jim has one of the game's great arms and at times he's an extremely exciting strikeout specialist, but his problem has been putting it all together. He has averaged better than seven strikeouts per nine innings in the majors.

Jim knows his way around collegiate circles. He's a graduate of Ohio University, obtained his masters degree in finance from the University of Indiana and furthered his education this winter by attending the University of Maryland. He was hobbled by a knee injury last season but an operation has him ready to go again. He's a confident, take-charge catcher.

Gil Hodges is one of nine players in major league history to hit four home runs in a game. Gil did it with the Brooklyn Dodgers on August 31, 1950, at the expense of the Boston Braves, at Ebbets Field.

The others were Bobby Lowe of Boston (NL) in 1894. Ed Delahanty of Philadelphia (NL) in 1896, Lou Gehrig of the Yankees in 1932, Chuck Klein of Philadelphia (NL) in 1936, Pat Seerey of the White Sox in 1948, Joe Adcock of Milwaukee in 1954, Rocky Colavito of the Indians in 1959 and Willie Mays of the Giants in 1961.

Born in Oshkosh, Wisc., October 26, 1947. Height: 6 ft. 4 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats left. Throws right. Lives in Oshkosh, Wisc. Single. Polish-German descent.

One of the Senators' promising youngsters, Gogo pitched a 10-inning no-hitter for Oshkosh High School as a junior. As a senior he pitched 60 innings, struck out 108, allowed only 14 hits and yielded five earned runs. As a pro for less than two seasons this sizeable baby of the Senators squad has fanned 221 in 246 innings.

Jim's major league record reads 12-23, but there's no inclination to toss in the towel on the sturdy righthander who was graduated from Notre Dame and acquired a masters degree in finance at New York University. His thesis was an analysis of the Major League Baseball Players' Benefit Plan. Jim has had his moments in the majors—23 consecutive shutout innings in 1962, a five-hit shutout over Kansas City in 1965, a six-hitter against California last season. His aim is to make the moments more frequent and his bosses believe Jim's willingness to accept advice has started him toward a rosier future.

HARRELSON, Kenneth Smith (Ken) No. 3 1B

Born in Woodruff, S.C., September 4, 1941. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in Oxon Hill, Md. Married. Irish-English descent.

He is baseball's best golfer, a pool shark, Indian wrestling fanatic and a sharp automobile salesman. Swatted 23 home runs with Kansas City in 1965, led the Eastern League with 38 homers, 138 runs batted in with Binghamton in 1962. Regarded as a character by many, but regarded as an extremely hard-working athlete by Manager Gil Hodges. Improved remarkably as a first baseman last season and there's expectation that he'll show considerable progress as a hitter his season.

Frank tied Boston's Carl Yastrzemski as the American League's ninth leading hitter last season with a .278 batting average, but it was a season in which huge Hondo could take little delight. In an effort to be more productive this year he has promised Gil Hodges to spread his stance and wait a bit more on the ball. Gil wants Frank to make contact more frequently, to lift the ball in the air more often, on the theory that when it happens Howard's muscle will take care of propelling the ball across vast acreage. Frank has hit home runs in 21 major league parks, missing only at Shea Stadium but connecting at the Polo Grounds before the Mets moved. He's the only player to hit a homer into the upper deck in dead centerfield at D.C. Stadium, a drive which prompted White Sox players to nickname victim Tommy John "LBJ"—Long Ball John. Affable Frank, always the hardest worker in training camp, is one of six children—one brother and four sisters—and has four children ranging in age from 6½ to 3½. An All-America basketball player at Ohio State, he was signed by the Dodgers for an estimated $108,000.

Born in Covington, Va., August 18, 1936. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Graduate of Hampden-Sydney College. Lives in Oxon Hill, Md. Married. English descent.

Picked up by the Senators just before the season opened last year, Bob proved to be an extremely valuable fellow in the bullpen. On the one occasion he was called on to start in an emergency he blanked the Yankees on three hits in five innings, turning over an 8-0 lead to his successor. Works for Rep. Richard Poff of Virginia during the off season.

Born in Covington, Va., December 22, 1943. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Attends Lincoln Memorial University. Lives in Hot Springs, Va. Married. Irish-German descent.

Came on like gangbusters in the last half of last season with York, Pa. of the Eastern League. Like Coach Jim Lemon of the Twins and Pitcher Bob Humphreys of the Senators, was born in Covington, Va., a town of 11,000. One of the early players to be signed by the expansion Senators in 1961, Jack pitched a 7-inning no-hitter for Valley High School, Warm Springs, Va., striking out 20. As a batter, throw one down his alley and he'll whomp it out of sight.

Born in Elkins, Ark., August 27, 1932. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats left. Throws right. Lives in Elkins, Ark. Married. German-Irish descent.

The only remaining original selectee among the expansion Senators, he's the last of 28 who were acquired for $75,000 each at Boston on December 14, 1960. Strong-armed Jim is the last of five Senators in history who have smashed three home runs in a game, accomplishing the feat in a 5-4 loss to Kansas City on June 8, 1964.

Jim can inflict particular punishment against a club with his homers. In 1963 he hit 24 homers, six of them against Cleveland. In 1964 he smashed 18 homers, six against Kansas City, and in 1965 four of his 14 homers were against the Angels. His 24 homers in 1963 represent a Washington record for a lefthanded hitter. He raises cattle on his farm in Elkins, Ark.

* Called up by Cleveland Indians, selected by Washington Senators, December 14, 1960, for $75,000.

In the past two seasons Chicago, Cleveland and Minnesota have had 18-18 records against Baltimore. The Senators are next best against the Orioles in that span with a 17-19 mark.

SATURDAY IS BARGAIN DAY

Every Saturday at D.C. Stadium this year will be Ladies' Day, Family Day and Organized Kids Day.

Ladies will be admitted for 50 cents.

A man, his wife and up to five children (12 or under), or a man and five children, or a woman and five children, will be admitted for a total cost of $2.00 for the group.

Youngsters from the surrounding area, in groups of 25 or more, may attend Saturday games free if they have adult supervision—one adult for every five children. Adults pay the general admission price of $1.50.

The Senators will admit groups of high school age visiting Washington on a two-for-one basis. Details may be obtained by writing Promotion Department, The Senators, Inc., D.C. Stadium, Washington, D.C. 20003.

Born in Brunswick, Mo., December 9, 1941. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Attended University of Missouri. Lives in Brunswick, Mo. Married. English-German descent.

All of his 69 games with the Phillies last season were in relief, but he may get a crack at a starting job with the Senators. Manager Billy Hitchcock of the Braves and Pitcher Jim Bunning of the Phillies are among National Leaguers who are high on Darold, as are the Senators, who tried to land him for more than a year before they got him.

Born in Buffalo, N.Y., February 7, 1939. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats right. Throws left. Attended Villanova University. Lives in Forestville, Md. Married. German descent.

Achieved his first major league victory at the expense of the Senators, while with the White Sox, on September 28, 1963. Shows occasional flashes of brilliance, but his history of early-inning difficulties has impeded his progress. Has the stuff but hasn't found the secret to consistency.

Coach Ed Yost of the Senators led the American League six times in coaxing bases on balls. He's in good company. The only players who surpassed him were Babe Ruth, who led the league 11 times, and Ted Williams, who was tops on eight occasions.

The first recorded meeting between a major league club and a President was in 1883 when Chester A. Arthur invited the Cleveland National League team to the White House.

Born in Montreal, Canada, August 17, 1938. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats right. Throws left. Lives in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Married. English descent.

Only four pitchers in the American League who pitched as many innings—Gary Peters, Jack Aker, Jim Nash and Stu Miller—had better earned run averages than Dick's 2.28, which led the Senators. Canadian-born Lines led the Midwest League in 1957 with a 1.80 ERA and he paced the Sally League in 1962 with a 2.11 ERA. Was All-City three times in baseball and twice in basketball at Manchester High, Richmond, Va. He also attended Fork Union Military Academy. Drives a truck for a meat packing firm during the off season.

Born in Oxnard, Calif., June 1, 1942. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in Oxnard, Calif. Married. Scotch-Irish descent.

One of the best at swooping in on slow rollers or bunts. Had a heartening freshman season with the Senators in 1965 and was expected to take it from there, but was a disappointment last year. Married during the winter. Figures to be a far better hitter than his .233 swatting of last season, but must demonstrate it quickly this year.

* Traded to Washington Senators with Outfielder Frank Howard, Pitchers Phil Ortega and Pete Richert and First Baseman Dick Nen for Pitcher Claude Osteen and Infielder John Kennedy, Dec. 4, 1964.

Born in Statesville, N.C., April 3, 1943. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Attended Pfeiffer College. Lives in Cleveland, N.C. Single. German-Irish descent.

Has a live fast ball, which was evidenced early. From Little League ranks through high school, Barry pitched 12 no-hitters and was All-State when he pitched for West Rowan High in the metropolis of Mt. Ulla, N.C. Among other accomplishments, he once struck out 21 in a 7-inning game.

Pitched a 3-hitter and won, 8-1, in his first major league start against Kansas City last July 23. Walked none, surprising himself, because control has been a problem. Could be a standout with a more aggressive attitude and a bit more accuracy.

Born in South Gate, Calif., September 24, 1939. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Graduate of Harbor Junior College. Attended Long Beach State College. Lives in Torrance, Calif. Married. Russian descent.

First base was Dick's for the grabbing last spring but he never got going after an encouraging finish with the Senators in 1965. Led the California League in 1961 with 32 homers, 144 runs batted in. Was a late season hero with the Dodgers in 1963, delivering a ninth inning homer which tied the score as Los Angeles ultimately won in the 13th inning, chilling St. Louis pennant hopes. The Dodgers voted him $1,000 of their World Series spoils for that homer, his lone hit in the National League.

* Traded to Washington Senators with Outfielder Frank Howard, Third Baseman Ken McMullen and Pitchers Phil Ortega and Pete Richert for Pitcher Claude Osteen and Infielder John Kennedy, Dec. 4, 1964.

Gene Green, Willie Tasby and Dale Long hit successive first inning home runs for the Senators off Dick Stigman at Cleveland on June 27, 1961.

The expansion Senators' biggest scoring spree was when they defeated Detroit, 15-9, on May 18, 1965. Their biggest margin in a shutout game was a 13-0 victory over California on June 2, 1965.

Born in San Francisco, Calif., May 4, 1943. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in San Francisco, Calif. Attended San Francisco City Junior College. Married. Hungarian-Irish descent.

Had a sore arm much of last season and saw little service. Has pitched 514 innings as a pro and has fanned 520. Was the Topps' Player-of-the-Year in the New York-Penn League in 1964, when he led the league with 20 wins and 274 strikeouts for Geneva. Studied criminology in college.

Born in Teaneck, N.J., April 22, 1938. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 215 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in Fort Lee, N.J. Married. Italian-Scotch descent.

Put in a useless year with a right elbow that puffed after even a little bit of throwing. An operation is supposed to have him ready to go again and if so he'll be valuable. Hit 19 home runs for Baltimore in 1963 following a spring exhibition outburst in which he hit five homers in his first five times at bat.

* Traded to Baltimore Orioles with Pitchers Mike McCormick and Stu Miller for Pitchers Jack Fisher and Billy Hoelt and Catcher Jim Coker, December 15, 1962.

 Traded to Washington Senators for Outfielder Woodie Held, October 12, 1965.

The Senators hit eight pinch home runs in 1965 and the same number in 1966. The American League record of 10 pinch homers in a season was set by the Yankees in 1961. The Reds of 1957 established the major league mark of 12.

The Senators scored 11 runs in the sixth inning against the Orioles at Baltimore on May 11, 1962. They made nine hits in the inning and sent 15 batters to the plate. Those are expansion records, as are the 20 hits the Senators made against Boston on July 27, 1962.

ORTEGA, Filomeno Coronado (Phil) No. 26 P

Born in Gilbert, Ariz., October 7, 1939. Height: 6 ft. 4 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in Mesa, Ariz. Single. Mexican-Yaqui Indian descent.

Phil was off to a 6-3 start last season, then lost six of his next seven games. In 1965 he won 11 games by July 24, then lost seven of his next eight. Obviously the road to stardom is being blocked by midseason rockiness. He can fire and all major league clubs recognized it when he was in high school, with the Dodgers landing him for a bonus estimated at $70,000. Struck out seven in a row against the Red Sox last season on May 29, when he had a no-hitter for seven innings.

SENATORS' ALL-TIME TEAM

Clark Griffith, who was with the Senators from 1912 until his death in 1955, first as manager and later as president, named the following as his all-time Washington team:—

1B—Joe Judge
 2B—Bucky Harris
 SS—Joe Cronin
 3B—Ossie Bluege
 LF—Goose Goslin
 CF—Clyde Milan
 RF—Sam Rice
 C—Muddy Ruel
 P—Walter Johnson
 P—Earl Whitehill

Born in Havana, Cuba, January 20, 1934. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in Miami, Fla. Married. Cuban descent.

Among 1967 active pitchers only Don Drysdale (2,111) and Whitey Ford (1,935) have more career strikeouts than Camilo's 1,885. Only 115 more strikeouts will thrust Pascual among an exclusive group of fewer than 20 who have posted 2,000 strikeouts in baseball history. Was 6-1 by May 16 last season. Holds club strikeout record for most strikeouts in a game, 15, against the Red Sox on Opening Day, 1960. Was 13-1 vs. the expansion Senators while with the Twins. Led American League with six shutouts in 1959, tied for lead with eight in 1961 and five in 1962. Led league in complete games, 17 in 1959 and 18 in 1962, tied for lead with 18 in 1963.

SENATORS' STRIKEOUT SPECIALISTS

Walter Johnson's strikeout feats make impressive lines in records books—among them 3,497 lifetime whiffs, leading the American League 12 times in that department and eight times in a row—but there are pitchers on the current Washington roster who accomplished what Johnson didn't in his long and distinguished career with the Senators.

The club record for strikeouts in a nine-inning game, for instance, was set by Camilo Pascual when he fanned 15 Red Sox in the 1960 Opening Day game at Griffith Stadium before a crowd of 28,327, including President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

On that occasion Pascual compiled 11 strikeouts in the first six innings and Boston's only run in a three-hit 10-1 victory was a tremendous homer over the centerfield fence in the second inning by Ted Wililams. Camilo fanned Frank Malzone and Gene Stephens three times each.

Last season Pete Richert and Phil Ortega tied an American League record by striking out seven in a row. Pete did it against Detroit on April 24 and Phil achieved the feat against Boston on May 29.

PETERSON, Charles Andrew (Cap) No. 4 OF

Born in Tacoma, Wash., August 15, 1942. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in Tacoma, Wash. Attends Pacific Lutheran University. Married.

Received a reported $90,000 to sign with the Giants. Most Valuable Player in the Texas League in 1962, when he hit 29 homers and led the league with 130 runs batted in. Started as a shortstop. A product of Little League baseball in Tacoma, where he also played Babe Ruth League, American Legion and semipro ball. He'd like to be a sportscaster when he hangs 'em up.

There have been nine pinch home runs in history clouded by players their first time at bat in the majors. Senators' fans have seen two of them, by John Kennedy on September 5, 1962, and by Brant Alyea (on the first pitch he ever saw in the majors) on September 12, 1965.

Born in Mineola, N. Y., October 29, 1939. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 184 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Lives in Suitland, Md. Married. German-French descent.

Struck out 195 batters last season, the most by a Washington pitcher since Walter Johnson fanned 228 in 1916. Struck out seven Tigers in a row last April 24 to tie A.L. record later tied by Phil Ortega against Boston. Fanned six Reds successively in his first major league game. Manager Gil Hodges expects Pete to emerge as the league's best pitcher this season following 15-12 and 14-14 marks with the Senators. his first full years in the majors. Public relations man for a Washington automobile firm during the off season and a buddy of Walter Reed Hospital patients whom he visits several times a week.

Born in Clarksdale, Miss., January 9, 1935. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats left and right. Throws right. Graduate of Tennessee A. & I. Lives in Washington, D. C. Married. Negro.

Keeps a book on every pitcher who opposes him. Muscular Fred wore out Boston and California pitching last season, batting .459 against the Red Sox and .448 against the Angels. He batted in 20 runs against California and among his 30 hits in 67 attempts were eight doubles, a triple and four of his 16 homers. One of the homers was a grand slam off Clyde Wright on July 27, when Fred batted in five of the Senators' runs in a 7-5 victory. Twice he collected four hits in five tries against the Angels. Played centerfield throughout his minor league career, figures to return there this season. A successful automobile salesman during the off season, Fred was quite a football player at Tennessee A. and I., winding up fifth in the Nation in total offense in 1954.

WALTER JOHNSON

Baseball's greatest pitcher, in the opinion of most veteran observers, was Walter Johnson, the famed righthander who hurled for the Senators from 1907-1927.

Johnson won 416 games and 113 were shutouts. He started 666 games and completed 531. He won 38 games by 1-0 and lost 26 games by the same score. He struck out 3,497 batsmen.

Time never will dim the brilliance of Johnson's accomplishments. The most incredible of his feats probably was when he pitched three successive shutouts (in four days) against the New York Yankees (then the Highlanders), in 1908.

When Walter Johnson pitched 56 consecutive shutout innings for the Senators in 1913 he did it in five starts and three relief appearances. In the streak he blanked the Yankees for a total of 17 innings, the Red Sox for 26.2 innings, the White Sox for nine and the St. Louis Browns, who ended the string, for 3.1 innings.

Three clubs murdered the Senators last season. Against the White Sox, Tigers and Twins, the Senators were 15-39. Against the other six clubs the Senators won 56, lost 49.

There never has been a no-hit game at D.C. Stadium. Joe Horlen of the White Sox had a no-hitter for 8.1 innings on July 29, 1963, but Chuck Hinton singled with one out in the ninth and Don Lock homered with two out to give the Senators a 2-1 win.

Al Crowder pitched 327 innings for the Senators in 1932 without a wild pitch and without hitting a batter. Walter Johnson had four wild pitches in one inning in 1914.
